B. Introduction/Background

The City of Ridgefield, incorporated in 1909, is a rapidly growing community located in northern Clark County, Washington approximately 10 miles north of Vancouver, Washington. Over the next 20 years, the City of Ridgefield expects to grow to a population of over 20,000 persons with an employment base of over 13,000 jobs.

The City recently received a Washington State Department of Commerce grant for E2SHB 1923 for selected actions to increase residential building capacity. The City is planning to use this grant funding under HB 1923 to revise its code to encourage residential development. Two required actions were identified to help achieve this goal. The first would be to authorize at least one duplex, triplex, or courtyard apartment on each parcel in one or more single-family residential zones. The second would be to authorize a duplex on each corner lot within all single-family residential zoning districts. As optional actions, the City also wishes to explore cluster zoning in single-family residential zoning districts and limited applications of form-based code. The selected firm would need to draft code changes related to land use regulations and development requirements. Therefore, the City would need a firm that has experience with developing and authoring land use regulations.

C. Scope of Work

The City of Ridgefield is seeking proposals from highly qualified firms to provide consultant services to help update the City's zoning regulations through a grant to achieve the goals of HB 1923. The City wishes to update our existing code to encourage the orderly development of additional residential density through a variety of housing types. The project will focus on providing increased and more efficient means to develop duplexes and triplexes. Firms should have collective experience that includes land use policy analysis and code writing.

It is anticipated that the scope of work for the update will include the following:

1. Code Development: The selected consultant work with City staff to will develop updates to the City's municipal code related to the actions identified under HB 1923. To be successful at this task the consultant should be able to review existing code sections, determine where changes are necessary, and draft updated code sections as required.
2. Project Management: The selected consultant will help oversee the code update project to ensure timely completion.
3. Public involvement: The consultant team will be expected to include the public in the code development process. This will include working with staff to provide public notices and updates as well as appearances at public meetings before the Planning Commission and City Council.
4. State Environmental Policy Act (SEPA): Consultant to complete a draft and final environmental checklist for the proposed code update.

5. Draft and final code updates: It is anticipated that several drafts of the code changes will be completed prior to the final draft. Staff comments will be incorporated prior to review by the public, Planning Commission, and the City Council. Public input will be solicited and incorporated throughout the planning process. After consideration by the Planning Commission, recommendations will be incorporated for review by the City Council. Revisions directed by the City Council will be incorporated for adoption. The selected consultant may be expected to participate in community outreach events as well as Planning Commission and City Council meetings for presentations and consideration of the proposed code updates.

The City's goal is to complete the project by December 31, 2020, although extensions to no later than March 31, 2021 may be possible.
